CONDITIONS OF SALE FOR FROZEN SEMEN

1. The Stud fee for frozen semen is £350, plus £95.00 for transportation, payable in advance when booked, or at least prior to shipment of semen.
2. The transport cost includes for the transportation of the semen to the AI Vet of your choice by overnight service, hire of the flask and return of the flask to the storage centre.
3. Veterinary costs for insemination of the Mare are payable by the Mare Owner.
4. If the mare does not conceive on the first oestrus more semen will be supplied at no extra fee for the second oestrus (a further shipment charge of £95.00 is required)
5. If the mare is not in foal after the second oestrus, the owner has the option to substitute a different mare at no extra fee (other than transportation) for one further insemination, either in the same year or the following year.

INSEMINATION

1. Mare selection It is not worth using frozen semen if there is any doubt about a mare's ability to conceive naturally. Do not use frozen semen on the foal heat. Older maiden mares and those that have had multiple pregnancies are likely to have a reduced chance of conceiving to insemination with frozen semen.
2. Mare management and insemination If frozen semen is to be successful, it is essential the mare management, semen handling and insemination are under the supervision of a veterinary surgeon who is experienced in its use. The British Equine Veterinary Association (Tel: 0207 610 6080) maintains a list of practices in the UK that have special interest in AI with frozen semen and it is strongly recommended that mare owners are referred to one of these practices.
